

Kia Johnson is a HOPE Hero

Kia Johnson is a South African television and radio personality who co-hosts the Morning Breakfast Show 'Planet Haaibo' on SABC's Radio 2000 and is the main anchor and producer on her own show every weekend called 'Saturday Night Live on 2000.' She is also a former SABC 3 Espresso TV and Primedia radio presenter.

Besides radio she is currently presenting and producing her own TV show on StarSat's Deen TV Channel 365 which spans across South Africa and Africa. The show is called 'Life with KJ' and is aimed at uplifting the community showcasing 'sung' and 'unsung' heroes who are making a positive difference and effecting change.

"I've always been passionate about making a difference within people's lives and I hope to further my passion for this through my Ambassador role with 'HOPE Cape Town' and supporting the good work they have been doing changing the lives of so many for the better. As a mother of two I feel very strongly about making a difference through this partnership and securing a better future for our children. I am very excited and am looking forward to the journey."
